Introduction

Tallman Lettering

TALLman Lettering (TML) is a technique that uses uppercase lettering to help differentiate look-alike drug names. Starting on the left side of a drug name, TML highlights the differences between similar drug names by capitalizing dissimilar letters (e.g., ABAcavir versus ENTEcavir and AcetylSALICYLIC Acid versus AcetylCYSTEINE). TML can be used along with colour or bolding to draw attention to the dissimilarities between look-alike drug names, and alert healthcare providers that the drug name can be confused with another drug name.

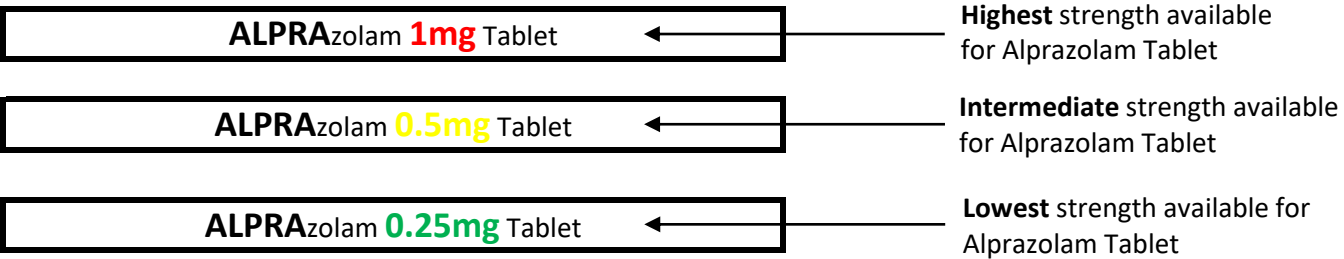

Recommended Medication Container Labeling

- Font: Calibri
- Size: (depends on box size)
- Alignment: Center
- Capitalize each word

Traffic Light Labelling

Traffic Light Labelling are recommended to highlight different strength of medications where RED represent highest strength, YELLOW represent intermediate strength and GREEN for the lowest strength of medications.
